

Eleanor Kaufman is a Singer/Songwriter living in Brooklyn, NY, originally from New Hampshire. She writes and performs original music and released her latest album Luna Fina on February 16, 2024.

Eleanor's voice has been compared to Bonnie Raitt, Susan Tedeschi and Norah Jones. Her sound is soulful and timeless and her bluesy sensibilities tell stories from another time. Her lyrics and storywriting are thought-provoking and filled with nostalgia, as she tells of personal experiences and also weaves her way into moments and experiences of those around her.

Eleanor's versatile voice has landed her session work as a backup vocalist for R&B, Hip-Hop, Soul, Rock and Americana artists. She can sing in English, Spanish and Hebrew. She was the lead for her band Eleanor and the Tasties in Boston, MA and together, they released their album Be My Honey in 2017. She is currently recording and producing her first EP, Luna Fina, a collection of original songs inspired by her time while living in Argentina in 2022.
